An Evening of Noble Dining: A Feast with the 29th Laird

'Royal Handwasher' and a member of the distinguished 'Royal Company of Archers', the King's Bodyguard in Scotland.

Simon Houison Craufurd, the 29th Laird of Craufurdlan Castle, warmly invites your clients to experience the rich heritage of his ancestral home.

Upon arrival, he personally welcomes them on the front lawn, utilising a marquee and Swedish logs if the weather demands, offering a choice of reception drinks such as whisky, champagne, or the warm and special "Laird's Glogi." Against the backdrop of the ancient castle, he shares captivating tales spanning its 700 year history.

As the gathering moves indoors to the Gothic hall, drinks and canapes are served, accompanied by further engaging stories from Simon. Enhanced by the presence of family portraits, books, ancient letters, and various props, Simon's narratives come to life, providing a vivid glimpse into the castle's storied past.

The culinary journey continues in The Blue Dining Room, adjacent to the hall, where a sumptuous four-course feast awaits. Crafted by the castle's team of chefs using locally sourced, seasonal, Scottish ingredients, the dining experience unfolds amid the unique ambiance of the room adorned with family silverware and portraits. Hosted by Simon and his wife Adity, dinner strikes a balance between casual conversation and informative insights, with additional family stories and castle quirks woven into the evening.

The final chapter of the night unfolds in the Library, home to the family's impressive collection of over 3,000 books spanning five centuries. Here, after-dinner drinks are served, including Port, Brandy, and Simon's curated selection of fine Single Malt Whiskies. With connections to royalty and Scottish historical figures, including William Wallace, the journey through this unique history reaches its zenith in the Library, where Simon shares more tales of his extraordinary family.
