

Enchanting Castle Weddings in the Heart of Ayrshire

Intimate, bespoke experiences, crafted around you

Nestled in the heart of Ayrshire, Craufurdland Castle is a family home with over 800 years of history, now opening its doors for couples to celebrate their most meaningful moments.

Steeped in heritage yet alive with warmth, the castle offers a setting where tradition and romance meet.

From intimate ceremonies in the Gothic Hall to lochside receptions at The Laird's Table, every celebration is framed by breathtaking scenery and timeless charm.

With a dedicated team and trusted partners, each wedding is designed to be truly bespoke to your wishes and crafted around you and your love story.

No two love stories are ever the same, and every Craufurdland Castle wedding is crafted to honour that individuality.

From the intimacy of a candlelit gathering in the Gothic Hallway to the joy of a grand celebration outside, each detail is shaped around you.

The Gothic Hall

The Laird's Table

The Loch

Craufurdland Castle Estate is also home to The Laird's Table, our restaurant set beside the tranquil loch. With floor-to-ceiling windows and views across the estate, it offers a contemporary space that perfectly complements the castle's historic charm and an ideal setting for a unique reception.

We work with you to curate a menu that reflects your tastes and the style of your day. Using the finest fresh, seasonal Scottish ingredients, our chefs create everything from beautifully presented canapés to refined multi-course dining.

Every menu is designed to complement your celebration, ensuring food and setting come together seamlessly for a truly memorable experience.
